A WOMAN WHO HAS SEEN MEN
EAT.

How many people do you know who eat well? You know people who mine, who stuff, who bolt, cram, gorge. You know people who eat heartily and decently. But you know very few people who carry, through all the demands and temptations of the table, the absolute charm of perfect breeding.
Men and women, who are gentlemen and ladies everywhere else, fail at the table. It is the final and often fatal test of gentle manners. Have you ever in the dining-room of a hotel of the first class, looked at the gentlemen's (?) table, and for your own moral improvement, beheld them eat? Do it, and afterward, if you can believe in the superiority of man! Judged by the standard of appetite and its gratification, it will be much easier for you to believe in the superiority of your dog Towzie, who handles his bone much more delicately, who swallows his soup with a softer lap, who does not pick his teeth at the table, or blow his nose over his plate. The longer you look the more you are amazed at the manners of these civilized gentlemen.
How they push, reach, and clatter!
How they sweep and gulp, how they cram and hurry away! You don't wonder that at least three fourths of them have dyspepsia and patronize patent medicines. But you do wonder, if you are a woman, that at least three-fourths of your sex idealize these monsters of the table into Apollos and Jupiters and fall down and worship them. You wonder if they ever saw them eat.
You wonder more at yourself that you could ever have cried till your head ached and your nose was red, over something he did or didn't do, or wonder, because you loved so much this dreadful animal who has just jumped up from the table, leaving you to contemplate the havoc on his plate, the debris he has left upon the tablecloth.
You remember him with supreme emotion of superiority for the next twenty-four hours.—M. S. M. C. Ames.

INDEPENDENT.

FINANCIAL.
We have been favored with a summary statement of the national finances from an authentic source, in which the receipts and expenditures are given from Sept. 1, 1867, to March 1, 1869, eighteen months under Johnson's administration, and from March 1, 1869 to Sept. 1, 1870, eighteen months under Grant's administration.

Receipts from custom, lands, revenue, miscellaneous, Sept. 1, 1867
to March 1, 1869 $56,315,203

Receipts from same sources from March 1, 1869 to Sept. 1, 1870 643,528,908

Decrease 87,213,705

Expenditures from Sept.
1, 1867 to March 1, 1869 $228,765,689

From March 1, 1869 to Sept. 1, 1870 245,912,029

Decrease 82,853,080

By the preceding statements it will be seen that the amount gained by increase of receipts and decrease of expenditures has been as follows.

Increase of receipts, $87,213,705 Decrease of expenses 82,853,080

Making a total of $170,066,625

Interest paid from Sept.
1, 1867 to March 1, 1869 $213,221,716

From March 1, 1869
to Sept. 1, 1870 193,421,153

Decrease on interest $17,800,061

Public debt reduced from Sept. 1, 1867 to March 1, 1866 $1,393,460

The same reduced from March 1, 1869 to Sept.
1, 1870 169,542,109

Increase in reduction. $168,158,949

These figures show that there is a vast difference in favor of an honest administration of affairs over that of the other sort. Revenues increasing and debts decreasing will materially hasten the payment of the public debt.
The opposition make a terrible clamor about a ruined country, as if everything was rushing on to the bad as rapidly as possible. They want to manufacture greenbacks by the ton and nominally wipe out the public debt by giving the people comparatively worthless money, which counts only in figures while it amounts to comparatively nothing in value. But an honestly conducted administration will raise means to pay the nation's indebtedness without resorting to repudiation. Even those who favor such a disregard of public obligation as must result in one grand swindle will soon find that honesty is the best policy.

OUR MONTHLY VISITORS.
This class of periodicals is always welcome to the sanctum of every printing office, and to many thousands of other places. We are in receipt of the following, which are ever promptly on hand.

The Atlantic Monthly leads off in this list, at least in many particulars, for it possesses peculiar claims on the attention of the progressive portion of the American people, as it ever has been bold in the promulgation of advanced ideas on all the important questions of the day. The last number is equal to its predecessors.

Harper's Magazine, "ever charming, ever new," has become so well established as a literary American institution that has hundreds of thousands of readers who are ready to devour its interesting contents as soon as they can lay hands on it.

Ballow (a Boston monthly) keeps its well established fame in presenting its readers some of the best original and select literature of the day.

The Phenological Journal and Packard's Monthly fill a place in the intellectual, moral, social and literary reading of the day that no other magazines occupy, hence it is sought after by the most advanced readers and thinkers of the times. S. R. Wells, publisher, N. Y.

The American Odd Fellow, published by John W. Orr, 96 Nassau street, N. Y., is unquestionably the best publication issued in the interest of the I. O. O. F. It contains correspondence from all parts of the globe, which, in addition to its other reading matter, cannot fail to interest every member of this order.

Tilton's Journal (of Boston) never fails to contribute to the rare, beautiful and useful in its teachings on floriculture and horticulture. Its patrons never fail to get the worth of its money.

The Little Corporal (Chicago) is now one of the most popular teachers of the American youth, and Mr. Sewell, the publisher, spares no pains to keep this favorite in the van of its class of publications.

The Nursery, (of Boston) of course for young people, must be an unfailing source of interest to the large class for whose benefit it is especially designed.

Arthur's Home Magazine (of Philadelphia) is so well established among the readers of good moral literature throughout the country that to mention the name is a reminder to thousands of the sincere pleasure they have enjoyed in reading its pages.

The Schoolday Visitor (Philadelphia) well maintains its high position as a mental and moral instructor of our youth. It has been so long before the American people that everybody is familiar with its excellent character.

Whitney's Musical Guest (Toledo) gives its patrons the usual amount of music vocal and instrumental music, besides a large amount of literature concerning matters pertaining to this art and science.

The Technologist (by the Industrial Publishing Company, N. Y.) fills its large number of broad pages with practical and scientific information on the subjects of engineering, manufacturing and building. To mechanics of all branches this is a magazine of unusual interest.

The Ohio Ed. Monthly (Columbus) posts the teachers and friends of education in this state, about our schools and other educational interests in its accustomed able and interesting manner.

The New York Teacher never fails to embody articles of vital interest to the cause of knowledge; and the last number is equal to anything that has preceded it. The teachers of that state should be proud that they have so able an organ.

We receive any amount of transient publications, all of which expect notices, but we have not space to devote to that direction.

THE INDEPENDENT, of Massillon, is now advancing considerably in its eighth year, and without any extra blowing is increasing its list of patrons gradually and surely. The principle mission it has to fulfill is to subserve, as best it can, the interests of the place in which it is located, which it has ever aimed to do, and expects to continue in the same direction.

"THE BOOK OF MORMON." As few people except in the church which Joseph Smith established at the time of this publication, have read this curious history of ancient America, the following brief summary is offered, that the nature of this Mormon Bible, so often misrepresented, may be understood without the labor of reading its entire mass of dull and often absurd matter. It comprises fifteen books as follows:

The First Book of Nephi.
The Second Book of Nephi.
The Book of Jacob the Brother of Nephi.

The Book of Enos.
The Book of Jarom.
The Book of Omni.
The Words of Mormon.
The Book of Mosiah, to which are added the Records of Zeniff.

The Book of Alma, Son of Alma.
The Book of Helaman.
The Book of Nephi, Son of Nephi, one of the disciples of Jesus Christ.

The Book of Ether.
The Book of Moreni.

After the confusion of languages at Babel, the Jaredites crossed the ocean in eight ships, and landing on the coast of North America, built cities and became a great nation. But, falling from godliness, the whole people was destroyed about six hundred years before Christ. Their prophet Ether wrote their annals, and hid the history, written on plates for the information of a finder.

A party of Israelites from the tribe of Joseph left Jerusalem in the reign of Zedekiah, followed the Red Sea and became a great nation. But, falling from

they again became corrupted, and a war broke out between the inhabitants of the two continents. The Nephites were driven northward; and while the remnant of the nation was encamped around the hill of Camorah, the Lamanites came upon them, and destroyed nearly all. Mormon and his son Meroni, being righteous men, survived; and, after completing the record, hid it in the hill of Camorah, where, after fourteen centuries, Heaven revealed it to Joseph Smith. From the Lamanites sprung the American Indians.

There are many very amusing stories in the book of Mormon; and much of it is simply a copy of the prophecies of Isaiah and other Jewish prophets.
The ships in which the early fugitives crossed the ocean were made somewhat on the principle of submarine rams, with a hole at the top, and another at the bottom, for ventilation when either top or bottom was not submerged. These aaks did not carry the extensive freight Noah was obliged to take on board. In the words of Ether, the vessels "were small; and they were light upon the water—even unto the lightness of a fowl upon the water; and they were built after a manner that they were exceedingly tight—even that they would hold water, like unto a dish; and the sides thereof were tight like unto a dish; and the ends thereof were peaked; and the length thereof was the length of a tree; and the door thereof, when it was shut, was like unto a dish. . . .
And the Lord said unto the brother of Jared, Behold, thou shalt make a hole in the top thereof, and also in the bottom thereof; and when thou shalt suffer for air, thou shalt unstop the hole thereof, and receive air. And, if it be so that the water come in upon thee, behold ye shall stop the hole thereof, that ye may not perish in the flood."

A luminous stone at each end of the ship gave light during the three hundred; and forty-four days the voyage to America lasted.—Old and New to September.

INSIDE A MOSQUE.
We have nothing in our own land by which to give a notion of the plan of these Mohammedan churches.
Generally they are constructed around a court yard, paved, and with a fountain in the center. Entrance is made through an arched gateway; and then a long colonnade is disclosed, surrounding three or four sides. Before the door of the mosque itself, oftentimes hangs a heavy leather curtain, swinging away by the corner when one wishes to go in.

No pictures or statues are ever allowed in Mohammedan places of prayer. In this and in other respects, they set a praiseworthy example, which their papal neighbors claiming the Christian name would do well to follow. Indeed, they carry life notion so far that it is only within a few years that any Mussulman would allow himself to be photographed. They interpret the second commandment so literally that they assert, as a doctrine of the Koran, that all painters and sculptors are forbidden to make copies of the human frame or person; they will be compelled to furnish eventually ly souls for all the bodies of men they fashion on canvass or on stone.

No seats are needed in the mosques, for all persons in the east prefer to sit or recline on the floor. The enclosures are kept quite clean, and are venerated well. In this respect they are in agreeable contrast with the gaudy and filthy churches in Italy. On one side, against the wall, is wont on set occasional to stand an officer called an Imam in a niche prepared for him, to read prayers and chapters of the Koran. Another man, called a Moolah, on Fridays harangues the people, taking his stand in a conspicuous and often richly carved pulpit approached by a high flight of steps. Generally, however, the detentions are personal, and in good measure solitary. The devotee enters sedately, and immediately commences his multitudinous genuflections and prostrations; murmuring to himself a kind of liturgy that sounds like an incantation. The abstraction these people exhibit is truly wonderful. It would seem impossible to disturb them, even though the heavens should begin to fall. An intense business like absorption appears to hold them in this exercise perfectly under its power.

Open at all hours of the day, entirely unlimited as to any bounds of parish locality, free to every one, these places of prayer afford a cool and comfortable retreat for all conceivable classes of incomers. The utmost quiet and decorum prevail. At almost any time a curious and interesting spectacle may be found within the wide precincts. A few persons will be seen engaged in their laborious devotions. Now and then a group of men will be discovered conversing in sedate tones, as if impressed with the gravity of the spot.
And most singular sight of all, you will see some at full length sleeping on the soft carpet, their heads buried in their extended arms, and covered to their suffocating extent with their heavy blankets.

The poor "slandering Arabs" especially find their welcome in these consecrated buildings. No one ever drives a worshipper away, and no one ever assumes authority to turn the weary and overheated out of these cool places of refreshment. They com-sider it God's house for every creature of God, and that makes it his home.

Even the birds building their nests in the nooks of architecture, are not disturbed. Saucy privileges, therefore, are free in these precincts to the poor and rich, the stranger and home-born alike.

It would be easy to give detailed descriptions of many of these edifices, but I cannot hope to prolong the interest they gave us in the actual inspection. That one which gave us all the most pleasure we found on the very summit of the Mokattane hills, within the enclosure so many years the center of all history and power.

I do not like its architecture altogether, for the minarets are so lofty and thin that they resemble a candle with the extinguisher on top. Hence the exterior commands admiration only for the beautiful finish of its material. The entire edifice is constructed out of veined alabaster. Once fairly inside of the enclosure, we could hardly restrain our exclamations of delight and wonder. It is the finest in Cairo.

The porch with its multiplied ornaments, the arches of the court yard and the domes that make the roof, are full of rare architectural beauty. And then within on every hand over the vast area, the exquisite tablets inscribed with verses from the Koran, traced skillfully in characters of graceful Arabic; the pulpit, the winding staircase, the curiously fashioned lamps suspended like so many vases from the ceiling by silken cords; the beautiful figures in the thickly tufted carpets, the stained windows in the lofty casements elaborately carved, the cornices projecting heavily with pendants as tenuous as frost-work—all these to day seemed so like the imagined scenery of the Thousand and One Nights, that I could almost bring back the dream of my childhood concerning the times

LISTENING WITH THE TEETH.

The Independent. Two Dollars a year, in advance. Massillon, Wednesday, Sept. 28.

REPUBLICAN TICKET. Secretary of State. ISAAC R. SHERWOOD, of Williams. Supreme Judge. GEO. W. MOFFAT, of Tuscarawas. Comptroller of the Treasury. WILLIAM T. WILSON, of Portage. Member of Board of Public Works. PHILIP V. HERZOG, of Angellaz. Congress. JACOB A. AMBLER. For Senator. ARVINE C. WALKER, of Stark. County Recorder. M. E. WILCOX, of Lawrence. County Commissioner. J. M. TRUBY, of Sugar Creek. Inferiary Director. JOHN H. BRENNER, of Canton. County Surveyor. R. E. WILSON, of Washington.

In two weeks hence (Oct. 12th) the voters of Ohio will be called upon to choose who shall aid in enacting and administering the laws of the country. But two tickets and two parties are in the field—one represents freedom, honesty, equal rights and peace, while the other is inspired by a directly contrary class of principles, viz. oppression, repudiation of a great debt they caused, and war, if they cannot rule. The first party is represented by the ticket that appears in this paper, and it only requires that a full turnout of their political friends shall take place to secure their election. To insure this result it is only necessary that on election day a little time be spent by each to deposit his vote—it won't take long to do it—and it is especially important that this be done to elect a state senator. In a qualified sense that place is as important as almost any state officer, especially at this juncture of political affairs in Ohio. A majority of one vote only may settle the question, and aggregates are made up of ones; let every republican see to it that his one is counted in the ballot box on that day. As to congressmen, the democracy give it up by default—at least none of their papers in the district publish the name of anybody as can didate. With a majority of something over 3,000 against them they must be a very hoping party if they can imagine that Col. Ball will be rolled into office by some mysterious influence, no one knows what. And suppose he is elected by some miraculous agency he will be of no earthly use to the party unless he turns himself inside out, upside down, and wrong end foremost, for we take it that Col. Ball has the principles of republicanism in his bones and no human agency can wash them out. But don't neglect to vote for Mr. Waiks.

The War now waging between France and Prussia seems to be unfortunately protracted. A great Prussian army is now around Paris, cutting off all communication between that city and the outside world, placing two millions of people in a besieged condition. Efforts to make peace have thus far failed. It was reported not long ago that Bismarck, the leading spirit among the Prussians, would not ratify a peace with anybody but Napoleon, but this absurdity is exploded, for the latest foreign news tells us that Prussia is ready to treat with any sort of governing power that France adopts, only requiring that it be of a responsible character, speaking the sense of the French nation. This is but a reasonable request, and it is hoped that the ruling powers of France, if there are such, will accede to it without further effusion of blood. The lives of hundreds of thousands of men uselessly sacrificed to gratify the mad ambition of Napoleon and his adherents, are a sufficient atonement without further slaughter.

Among the latest foreign news is a statement that the besieged have difficulties and even fighting among themselves; and if so, it will but hasten the surrender of Paris. Josephus tells us of a parallel case when Jerusalem was invested by the Roman army under Titus and Vespasian, that the besieged fought terribly among themselves, which made them an easy prey to the conquering legions. Like results will follow similar causes in the present case.

The dedication of St. Paul's Lutheran church, a beautiful edifice, almost finished, is soon to take place—some time during the coming month. At that time it is expected ministers of that denomination from other places will be here and take part in the solemn exercises connected with such occasions.

New and seasonable goods have very recently arrived at Mr. Falk's store, where everything in the way of ladies' attire can be had—as he keeps a full assortment in that line.

Comparative quiet seems now to prevail in this vicinity in regard to new railroad connections. Is it not time to wake up from this seeming indifference? The people north and south of us anxiously desire such an improvement, and are working for it, and as it immediately affects this vicinity no doubt our people will in due time take an active part in carrying out the project. A more direct connection with the north and south by railroad, making this place the crossing, would be of incalculable advantage to Massillon.

Monday evenings our part of Main street is made vocal by the music of a German singing association whose members enjoy themselves in cultivating the art of sending forth harmonious sounds.

Just gone on a new stock, Mr. M. Davidson, who will soon return with a new and varied lot of clothing of all descriptions.

DEATH AMONG THE JUDGES.—Judge Gholson, formerly occupying the supreme bench of this state, died at his residence in Cincinnati, a few days ago. He was a man of considerable distinction at one time, and author of writings on questions of law. Judge Grier, late a member of the U. S. courts, died at his residence in Pennsylvania, within a day or two. Anti-slavery people will remember him for his devotion and subvency to the slave power, when that influence was rampant all over the country.

Estep is receiving an assortment of the popular flannels manufactured at New Lisbon.

Hats, caps, furs, and goods of this description have just been received by Mr. Minich at his store. His long experience enables him to meet the wants of customers in everything in his trade.

Old or soiled clothing renovated or renewed in appearance, by Geo. Long, under McLain, Dangler & Co's store.

Just now, while the principal manufacturing establishments of this place are doing very little, except to make preparations for active work in a few weeks, and while the furnaces are idle in consequence of the unsettled condition of affairs about the mines; it has the effect to make business a little dull. But this state of things is only temporary—everything will soon come right, and the accustomed activity of the place revive business of all descriptions.

In consequence of the protracted drought some of our farmers are apprehensive that the fly may intrude on the grain, which has been sown for some weeks, as we have had no rain, or even frosty mornings to prevent the depredations of this mischievous insect.

S. A. Conrad has just returned from the east with a very extensive assortment of wares in his line, and is prepared to fill all orders of customers from the least to the greatest.

The snow white velvet cord, beautiful, durable, washes well and always stylish at Estep's.

The Board of Trade met at their room, Richheimer's Hall, yesterday evening, it being the regular time for their coming together. Some business affecting the interests of the board was transacted, but the principal question for consideration was, what should be done here in regard to the contemplated railroad projects now presented for action. Clement Russell, Esq., being familiar with the railroad movements here for some years made a concise statement of what has been done in that way; also, what is proposed, more particularly in regard to the Lake Shore and Tuscarawas Valley Road, now on an extended, which is proposed to connect with the roads at Lima and Canton, and to run through Tuscarawas county. As Massillon is vitally interested in this proposed work it is expected that the people here will contribute liberally toward its construction. A committee was appointed, consisting of Messrs. W. Ricks, C. Russell and G. P. Reed, to see what means can be raised for the proposed road. Further particulars cannot be given just now as we are going to press, but we may say that books are now opened for subscriptions at the Union National Bank.

THE DIAMOND SPECTACLES.

WILL PRESERVE IT.

The Diamond Glasses, Manufactured by J. E. Spencer & Co., N. Y.

Which are now offered to the public, are pronounced by all the celebrated Opticians of the World to be the Most Perfect, Natural, Artificial help to the human eye ever known.

They are ground under their own supervision, from minute Crystal Pebbles, melted together, and derive their name, "Diamond," on account of their hardness and brilliancy.

THE SCIENTIFIC PRINCIPLE on which they are constructed brings the eye or center of the lens directly in front of the eye, producing a clear and distinct vision, as in the natural, healthy sight, and preventing all unpleasant sensations, such as glimmering and wavering of sight, dizziness, &c., peculiar to all others in use.

They are Mounted in the Finest Manner in frames of the best quality, of all materials used for that purpose.

Their Finish and Durability cannot be surpassed.

CAUTION.—None genuine unless bearing their trade mark stamped on every frame.

Legal Notice. THE STATE OF OHIO, In the County of Stark, In the Court of Common Pleas. Charles W. Burress, Guardian of the estate of Herman H. Burress, and Mary S. Burress, plaintiffs. Vs. Jacob L. Bachtel, Administrator, with the last annexed of Mechtuble H. McClary, deceased; Caroline E. Burress, Harry McNeal and Louisa M. Stafford, Elizabeth Stafford and John F. Stafford, Jr., Edwin Bayliss and Richard M. Stafford defendants. The defendant, Richard M. Stafford, who resides in the city of Chicago, and State of Illinois, will take notice that on the 10th day of May, 1870, the plaintiff filed his petition in the above named court, against the defendants above named, in a certain civil action; the substance of which, petition is, that by the last will and testament of said Mechtuble H. McClary, the executors in her said last will named should pay the said estate of said Mechtuble H. McClary, the sum of one hundred and thirty-five dollars, and thirty cents of the west side of lot numbered one hundred and twelve in the then village, now city of Massillon, in the county and state aforesaid, to the said defendants, Caroline E. Burress, Louisa M. McNeal, and one Mary F. Stafford, during their natural lives, respectively, and that one third of said sum should be paid to the body of each and either of them upon their decease; that the executors in said will named, having declined to act as said executors, the defendant, Bachtel, was appointed administrator upon said estate with the will annexed, and that said administrator withdrew from the said estate, and conveyed the aforesaid premises to one John McWilliams for fifteen hundred dollars, who conveyed the same to the defendant Bayliss, by whom the same is now held. That said premises, at the time of said sale to said McWilliams were worth five thousand dollars, all of which said sum had been paid to said Bachtel, and that said Bachtel was then the only living heir of the body of the said deceased, Caroline E. Burress, at the time of filing said petition that the defendants Elizabeth Stafford and John F. Stafford, Jr., minors aged four years and two years respectively, were then the only living heirs of the body of said Mary F. Stafford, and that said defendant Louisa M. McNeal was then without a living heir of her body. The prayer of said petition is that said sale and conveyance to said McWilliams and said Bayliss be set aside, and possession of said premises be restored to said Bachtel as administrator for the uses in said will designated, and in case the said court finds said sale to said McWilliams and Bayliss to be valid that said Bachtel may stand charged as such administrator with five thousand dollars, as the balance of the value of said premises, for the benefit of the legatees in said will. That on the 13th day of August, A. D. 1870, the said plaintiff filed a supplementary and amended petition in said court, in which he alleges that since the action was commenced by said Bachtel, said defendant Mary F. Stafford, has been born to Caroline E. Burress aforesaid a daughter named Mary S. Burress, and to said Mary F. Stafford a son named Richard M. Stafford, each of whom holds a vested remainder in the real estate in the petition described, under and by virtue of said last will of said Mechtuble H. McClary, and that said Bachtel, who amended petition prays for said Mary S. Burress, the same relief as is prayed in the original petition for said Herman H. Burress, and that said supplemental petition must be answered by the 8th day of October, A. D. 1870, or the same will be taken as true and confessed.

Mild, certain safe, efficient. It is far the best cathartic remedy yet discovered, and at once relieves and invigorates all the vital functions, without causing injury to any of them. The most certain success has long attended its use in many localities, and it is now offered to the general public with the conviction that it can never fail to accomplish all that is claimed for it. It produces little or no pain; leaves the organs free from irritation, and never overtaxes or excites the nervous system. In all diseases of the skin, blood, bowels, liver, bladder, and kidneys, children, and in many difficulties peculiar to women, it brings prompt relief, and certain cure. The best physicians recommend and prescribe it, and no person who once uses this will voluntarily return to the use of any other cathartic.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color. A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray, or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume. Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., PRACTICAL AND ANALYTICAL CHEMISTS, LOWELL, MASS. PRICE $1.00.

Books for subscription to the stock of the Lake Shore & Tuscarawas Valley Railroad are now open at the Union National Bank. Every man who is interested in the prosperity of Massillon should be aware of this fact, and should encourage the enterprise to the full extent of this capacity. Our city will advance toward a prosperous and thriving condition only as enterprises of this kind are fostered. $100,000 of this stock is expected to be disposed of here, and our people should subscribe for this amount at once.

Some right handsome plaids at I. B. Dangler's and cheap too Linon collars and cuffs, handkerchiefs and shirt fronts, new assortment just received at Humberger & Son's.

Our citizens of the Jewish faith observed last Monday as a holy day, or new year's day, their year, 5631, commencing on that day. Their places of business were closed. It would be an improvement if the gentiles were to have new year at the same time, as we should all have a more pleasant season in which to enjoy the return of the year.

The Mohammedan new year was on the 3d of April last. It would be better for us to have the beginning of the year even in April than January. If we could have this occasion to occur in warm weather it would be very agreeable, for after all, it would make no difference in the seasons—it would come and go any how.

Scarlet cloth and opera flannels at Humberger & Son's.

Bro. Lynch, now of Salem, on last Sunday preached to a large and attentive congregation, in the Methodist church. The interior of the building has just been newly frescoed both on the ceiling and sides, which alters its appearance very much. As a matter of course people will differ in their tastes as to the style in which the work is done, but it is satisfactory to those who worship there that the outside world need not be troubled about it. The windows have also been supplied with stained glass, which is regarded as an improvement over the plain article formerly in use there.

During last week Mr Smith put up several lightning rods on a number of the best buildings in town. For a place of the size of Massillon there are comparatively few of these protections, but the devastation resulting from lightning, or some other cause, a number of house owners have availed themselves of these rods.

Great bargains in bleached and unbleached muslins and sheetings at Ricks'.

Nice glass—Alexanders, and cheaper makes at Humberger & Son's.

Mr Joseph Kimball, formerly superintendent of schools in this place, now of Mobile, Alabama, recently made a visit to his New England home, and on returning to the south stopped here a short time to see his numerous friends by whom he was warmly welcomed. He reports that he is pleasantly situated, and that the cause of education is prospering in that distant locality.

Carpets will be sold cheap, and you can find a good stock at Ricks' to select from.

Silk warp flannel 4 1/2 wide at Humberger & Son's.

Whoever has our August and July numbers of the Atlantic Monthly, is again earnestly requested to return the same, for they have the name of the paper printed on them, so the borrower well knows where they belong.

Humberger & Son have the nicest home made flannels—just received—go and see them.

The Riverside Magazine, published by Hud & Houghton, of New York, we regard as one of the most beautiful, complete and efficient publications in the country, which is designed and adapted to the wants of the growing generation of readers. Always got up in superb taste it presents attractions which account for its popularity, then its contents are always of that elevating character which renders it a safe instructor in all that pertains to virtue and happiness.

About the middle of last May we began to have hot weather, and without much cessation it has kept up to a high temperature ever since. This is supposed to be the reason why there has been an unusual amount of sickness during the season.

Waterproof, the nicest linen Humberger & Son's.

If you are in want of a coat, vest or pair of trousers go to Ricks' and see their assortment of woolen goods which they will sell cheap.

Workmen are now putting up a stout little brick building, a new calaboose, adjoin the old edifice, which will be ready for occupancy in a few weeks. Who is to be the first inmate, is soon to be the question.

Home made satinet—a good assortment and low prices. The best goods for service you can buy—go to Ricks' and see the goods.

The contract for grading the park has been about finished, and it already vastly improves the appearance of that locality. It will not probably be finished this season, but when completed will be an ornament as well as a credit to the place.

Just received a large lot of plaid shawls for fall wear—the latest styles will be sold cheap at Ricks'

The equinoctial storm has been visiting some parts of the world, east and west of us, in certain localities with unusual severity. Fearful storms have also swept over some parts of the ocean, which has made navigation dangerous if not fatal in some places. This region of country is loudly complaining of heat, drought and dust. No rain has fallen here since the 9th inst. It will come soon.

Stowe's circus was here one day last week, but came so quietly that comparatively few knew of its presence. So there was not many visitors, but those who were there reported that the performances were highly satisfactory.

The annual fair commenced yesterday and if the weather holds out agreeable as it has done during that part of the month that has passed—only enough rain to lay the dust—it would suit our people who visit Canton on this occasion. In adjoining counties where fairs have been held they were successful in the large number of visitors and in productions and manufactures. Stark county being the largest in this section, and by far the wealthiest, ought to excel in the richness of its productions, the number of visitors; and nothing preventing this week will decide the question. All who can should visit the fair, if for no other purpose than to see the neighbors, and have a good social time. But every one who can, it is hoped, has contributed to the wealth and variety of what is collected there this week.

Cor. Madison, of the American Hotel, has just had manufactured to order, the finest and most improved two horse carriage to be found in this part of the country. For utility, convenience, strength and beauty of finish we may regard it as unsurpassed. Being familiar with vehicles of every description the proprietor had this fine piece of workmanship made to order, and in its construction he has combined advantages which no similar conveyance possesses, but which all will appreciate after seeing them. Then it is so much lighter than carriages of the same size, yet is equally strong, making the work on the team comparatively light.

Some of our good people are often reminded these moonless nights, when there is no light from the furnaces, that it would be a good thing if we could be favored with gas light on the streets. Among the many improvements made by our city council if they will add the introduction of gas it will be another feather of immortality in their caps.

The big show of Yankee Robinson, as will be seen by notice elsewhere, will be here on next Tuesday. It is a combination of rare animals and birds, this part forming a large menagerie, all of which everybody likes to see—from the great elephant down to the little monkey. Some of these specimens of the animal creation are new to many people especially the young, and to see the living creatures will give them new ideas of the wondrous works of nature. To read of them or even see their pictures is not as satisfying as to take a look at the objects themselves. Mr Robinson has been at great trouble and expense in securing this collection, for some of the rarest specimens are natives of far off countries, wild, ferocious, and difficult to procure, but he has spared neither labor nor expense to gratify the public curiosity, and no doubt but his efforts will be liberally rewarded. And under the same great pavilion, where such a multitude of curious birds, and beasts are presented, there will be skilled equestrians with trained horses, who will excite the marvel of the curbs at their daring feats, also, athletes who are competent to perform a vast variety of wonderful maneuvers, such as are looked upon as impossible by many. Until the spectator sees for himself, of course everybody looks a hearty laugh, and the funny man will provide amply for the amusement of the exhibition. So if anybody has the blues and desires to get rid of such an incubus, here will be a good opportunity to laugh and grow fat.

Bro. Clark, of the Wadsworth Enterprise has just issued a directory of that place, of 28 pages, and in addition to the business features there are combined many facts connected with the pioneers and early history of the town. It is a valuable contribution to the vicinity of which it treats, and other places might very properly follow the example here set forth. The mechanical execution of the work is very creditable to the publisher.

Last Thursday night the watchmen set to guard the coal property of Mr. Polz, observed somebody prowling about, as they supposed, who had no good in view, and several shots were fired at the intruder, but nobody hurt. Somebody will be hit one of these nights if such misdeeds are not stopped as have recently been going on.

Several of our merchants have just been receiving new goods, as we notice large numbers of newly opened bales in front of McLain, Dangler & Co's, I. B. Dangler's and Hookway's.

I have no hesitation in saying that in my case it proved a decidedly efficacious remedy for dyspepsia, and with the removal of the complaint, promoted a healthy action of the digestive organs generally. I should judge from its effects that it contained ingredients which serve both as a mild tonic and purgative, contributing to the salutary action of the liver, and the purifying of the blood. Indeed, so happy have been the results produced by this medicine in my case, that I shall certainly use it in future dyspeptic troubles in preference to any other. I pronounced remedy with which I am acquainted.

I. LEVY, OBERLIN.

P. S.—During five years' residence in India and Australia, when I was a member of the Civil Service, I experienced, with others, considerable inconvenience from dyspepsia and constipation occasioned by the great heat of the climate, and from what I know of Dr. Whittlessey's Vegetable Remedy, I feel convinced that its introduction into those countries would confer a vital benefit on the inhabitants, by invigorating the action of the liver, and stimulating the digestive organs. The best remedies I could procure at other times, as well as other remedies I tried in England, proved decidedly inferior in their curative properties to Dr. Whittlessey's.
